

Antenatal Vaccination Card Influenza and Whooping Cough (Pertussis)

The Antenatal Vaccination Card has been provided for you to maintain an accurate vaccination record for the whooping cough (pertussis) and influenza (flu) vaccines received during your pregnancy.

Please keep the completed record card with your antenatal documents and take it to all your appointments.

Receiving both vaccines during pregnancy is recommended.

The whooping cough (pertussis) vaccine should be given at 28 weeks pregnant or as soon as possible afterwards.

The flu vaccine should be given early in pregnancy and will depend on the time of year and vaccine availability.

Reactions to the vaccine can include localised pain; redness and swelling at injection site; and fever.

Any serious or unexpected reactions should be reported to Health Protection Service, Immunisation Unit on 62052300

To be completed by person administering vaccine
